West Point

DURING the Revolutionary War, George Washington set up our first officer-training school at West Point. But, with the end of the war also came the end of the school. Then, in 1776, Henry Knox proposed the first plan to establish a permanent national military academy.

On March 16, 1802, an Act of Congress, signed by President Thomas Jefferson formally established the United States Military Academy. On the following July 4th, the school was opened and ten cadets were enrolled for instruction.

During the first fifteen years of its existence, West Point struggled as it attempted to develop a system which would provide effective leadership for our Army. In 1817, President James Monroe infused new life into the school by appointing Major Sylvanus Thayer Superintendent. He promptly established a new system predicated on the exemplary principles which still prevail. Thayer has been immortalized as the Father of the Military Academy.

Since then West Point has attained world renown. A roll call of its graduates would include such famous names as Grant, Lee, Jackson, Pershing, Patton, MacArthur and Eisenhower. Today West Point occupies nearly 15,000 acres, with a picturesque campus visited by more than two and a half million people yearly.

The authorized strength of the Military Academy is 2,512 cadets, including those from Alaska and Hawaii.

The goal toward which each cadet strives is a commission in the Regular Army.

Since its founding more than 157 years ago, West Point has graduated nearly 23,000 men. By their deeds of valor, former cadets have brought glory to West Point in every conflict since the War of 1812.

Defending Eastern Title, Black Knights Retain "Lonely End" Offense

THE "Lonely End" offense which so thoroughly captivated the college football world and proved the instrument by which Army was to achieve the Eastern championship and an undefeated season in '58 is once again the order of the day on the Plain.

Conceived by Earl H. (Red) Blaik in his final season at West Point as an antidote for the numerical superiority of Army's major opponents, the "Lonely End" offense was considered the first entirely new offensive concept in football in a half century.

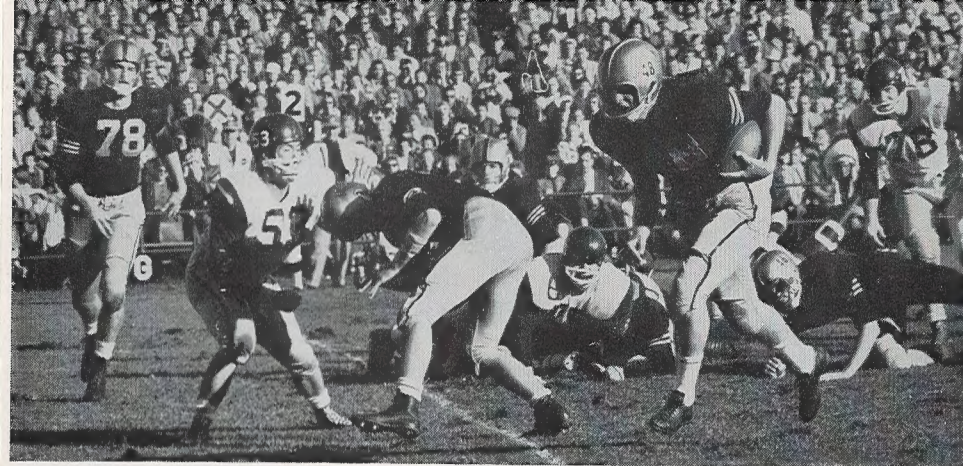

Coach Dale Hall—who succeeded Blaik following a brilliant 18 year career on the Plain—has installed "some new wrinkles" and plans to exploit the "unsociable end" even more than was done in '58.

"I think this attack has untouched possibilities," Hall said at the time of his appointment. "Moreover, the coaches and the Cadets are sold on it. So we'll keep it and try to advance along the line Colonel Blaik set up."

To accomplish his mission "of continuing the winning tradition established by Red Blaik," Hall's first move was to retain the same coaching staff of Tom Harp, Chuck Gottfried, Frank Lauterbur and Bill Gunlock. John Rauch, former backfield coach at Georgia, was added to fill the post vacated by Hall.

A nucleus of 13 lettermen reported back, and replacements for 12 graduated lettermen must be developed. Biggest loss, of course, is former captain Pete Dawkins, everyone's all-America and winner of both the Heisman and Maxwell trophies. In general, the most important task confronting the staff is the development of a new interior line which was removed in its entirety from tackle to tackle through graduation.

Intact from the '58 championship squad are only four regulars. Included in this array are captain-elect Bill "lonely end" Carpenter, Don "sociable end" Usry, Joe Caldwell, quarterback and Bob Anderson, two-time all-America at left halfback. Anderson could possibly be only the fourth Army player in history to make the first all-America team three consecutive years. The late Chris Cagle who starred in the Roarin' Twenties, and fabulous Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis who cavorted in the early forties compose the elite trio.

Carpenter in his select role as the "lonely end" proved to be one of the great receivers in the 70 year history of the sport here. He piled up 453 yards and 2 touchdowns. His 22 catches tied the all-time West Point mark in this department set by Dan Foldberg in 1950. Usry was also a solid threat as a receiver. He picked off 10 passes for 145 yards and also scored twice via the air lanes.

Filling the void at quarterback beautifully with a pressurized performance that probably was the key of the entire season, Caldwell may even exceed his great junior year contribution as a passer. With only a few minutes of playing time in one game under his belt from the '57 season, Caldwell took command of the field general's job and directed the attack with aplomb. His thread-needle passing proved decisive for the Black Knights in most every contest. He completed 54 of 120 and pegged 8 for touchdowns.

There is a plethora of good backs on the Squad. Rounding out the starting quartet are Steve Waldrop at right halfback and probably John Eielson at fullback. Waldrop is an excellent replacement for Dawkins and in some phases may be as good as his exciting predecessor. Eielson is a strong, sturdy performer who was hurt most of last season, but who has the natural talents to fit into the first backfield unit primarily as a blocker. Other backs who are certain to be heard from are Glen Adams, an ace on defense last season; Roger Zailskas, speedy runner; Danny Minor, a potentially good broken field threat; Don Bonko, a seasoned fullback; Tom Blanda, an able passer, and George Kirschenbauer, leading scorer and ground-gainer from the Plebe squad.

There is considerable apprehension with respect to the forward wall. Of prime concern to Hall and his staff is the tackle situation. Of the five leading candidates, only Bill Yost is a letterman, and he is a questionable quantity as a result of a knee operation. Scotty Brown, Gerry Clements and Dale Kuhns are all capable of breaking into the starting lineup. Bob McCarthy from the JV also looks impressive. Kuhns is potentially an outstanding prospect lacking only in experience.

Though not considered desperate, the guard situation needs bolstering in depth. Al Vanderbush, a regular throughout the first half of '58 until set back by a head injury in the Pittsburgh game, is outstanding and may be of all-America timber. He, incidentally, is the only experienced guard on the squad. Behind him are sophs Jerry Seay and Mike Casp, and Phil Sykes, a converted end. Harry Miller, promoted from JV status, has the inside track at left guard. In his shadow are Barry Butzer, a powerful sophomore, and Mike Jezior who though a senior has played only sporadically the past two seasons.

There is not much concern on the coaching staff over the starting center. Bob Oswandel has proved a titan at middle guard on defense. He has the advantage of having had considerable game experience alternating with Bill Rowe last fall. Dick Buckner and George Joulwan, a pair of exceptionally good competitors are vying for the second string berth but neither has had any considerable playing time. Ken Herring and Tom Brewer are not to be discounted. Brewer was out of spring practice with cellulitis.

The schedule is exceptionally strong by any standards. In fact, it is the considered opinion of General Douglas MacArthur, an intensely interested Army football follower, that "this is the toughest schedule ever undertaken by the cadets." Included in the nine game slate are Boston College, Illinois, Penn State, Duke, Colorado State, Air Force Academy, Villanova, Oklahoma and Navy. The return to Yankee Stadium for the Air Force game marks the first time the Black Knights have played in the Home of Champions since 1951.

Coach Hall's summary of the over-all situation is this: "We accomplished what we set out to do in spring practice. We believe that we have fashioned a strong forward passing attack. However, considering the schedule and the status of our interior line, Army must be regarded as a questionable quantity."

Dale S. Hall

Head Coach

THE 1959 season at the United States Military Academy takes on an aura of added importance with the introduction of Dale Stanley Hall as the 23rd football coach.

No newcomer to the West Point athletic scene, Dale is eminently qualified to assume the portfolio relinquished by Earl H. (Red) Blaik after 18 seasons here.

Molded in the Blaik tradition, Dale played for, and coached under his predecessor, and, in fact, stated that he will pattern his techniques along similar lines which proved so successful during the Blaik era.

Dale has logged ten years of varsity coaching experience in various capacities and though this is his initial season as a head mentor he was deemed the logical choice by Lieut. Gen. Garrison Davidson, Superintendent, the Athletic Board, the coaching staff, and, of course, Blaik.

In accepting the position, Hall said: "This is the realization of an ambition I have had since I was a cadet. Following Colonel Blaik is a tremendous challenge and probably the most difficult task in football. He established a winning tradition at West Point and it is the intention of myself, the staff, the administration and every Army man that this tradition be continued."

A West Point graduate, Class of 1945, Hall launched his coaching career in 1949 following his separation from the service with the rank of first lieutenant. Three of his service years were spent in Germany where he coached the Second Constabulary Regiment to the European championship.

He resigned his commission to enter the coaching profession breaking in under Stu Holcomb at Purdue. Following two years at Purdue, Dale moved on to New Hampshire for a one year stay as line coach, head basketball and tennis mentor. The University of Florida then beckoned in 1952 and Dale was signed by Bob Woodruff as backfield coach where he remained until returning to the Plain in 1956.

The appointment of Hall follows the Academy's pattern of filling the head coaching job with a graduate. However, Hall becomes only the second civilian in the modern era to hold the post. Prior to Blaik the last civilian to occupy the post was G. P. Dyre, a Cornell alumnus, during the 1896 season.

Hall was a superlative athlete at the Military Academy during his under-graduate career from 1942-45. He achieved fame in football, basketball and tennis, and was the recipient of the Army Athletic Association trophy presented annually to the man who renders "the most valuable service to athletics during his cadet career." He is the first and only Army basketball player ever to make the first team all-America, and also captained the cadet cagers.

Dale has decided to continue the "lonely end" offense instituted by Blaik last fall. "I think this attack has untouched possibilities," Hall said. "Moreover, the coaches and cadets are sold on it. So we'll keep it and try to advance along the line Colonel Blaik set up, with some new wrinkles, of course."

Dale and his wife, Laura Faye, have three daughters, Laura Jean (8), Mary Susan (6) and Janet Faye (4).

Assistants

Charles Gottfried

Now starting his third season as end coach, he is the only Big Ten representative currently serving on the West Point staff.

Has been coaching since graduation from the University of Illinois in 1950, alternating between the high school and collegiate ranks.

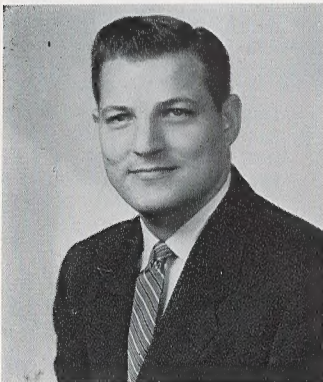

A native of East St. Louis, Ill., he has served four years at the secondary school level at Urbana and Thornton High Schools. His previous college experience was a three-year stint at the University of Idaho as line coach.

An outstanding athlete he was notably successful in football and wrestling as an undergraduate. Wearing the colors of the Fighting Illini he won the Big Ten heavyweight wrestling diadem in 1948, and was runner-up for the national championship the same year.

In football he was an all-Big Ten guard in 1948 and played with the Illinois team that won the conference title in 1946 and the succeeding Rose Bowl game. He also participated in the Blue-Gray all-star game at Montgomery, Ala., in 1949.

Bill Gunlock

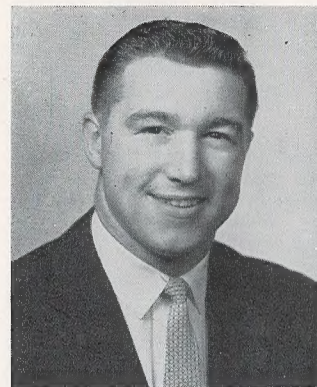

An outstanding young line coach, he joined the Army staff as offensive line coach in 1958.

This is his third collegiate coaching position. He came to the Military Academy from Bowling Green University where he tutored the line for three seasons. During this assignment he had a hand in developing four all-Ohio linemen. Last fall, the Falcons won the mid-American conference, were runners-up the two previous seasons, and lost only two of 27 games during the three years.

He launched his coaching career at Heidelberg College in Tiffin, Ohio, in 1953, serving as line coach for two seasons.

A graduate of Miami (Ohio) University, he played three seasons at offensive guard and figured in the Redskins' victory over Arizona State in the 1951 Salad Bowl game. During his two-year enlistment in the Army, he played on the Fort Knox and Brook Army Medical Center elevens in 1951 and 1952.

Tom Harp

Hailing from Barnesville, Ohio, he is now in his fourth season as offensive backfield coach on the West Point staff.

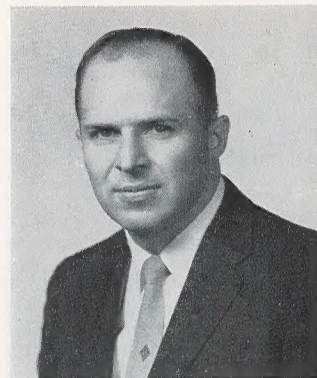

Broke in on the college level when he was selected by Coach Earl Blaik as the Army backfield coach in 1956 following a successful career in the Ohio high school coaching ranks.

During his five-year tenure at Carrollton and Massillon High Schools, his teams won 37, lost 9, and tied 2 for an impressive .779 winning percentage.

He launched his coaching career at Carrollton High and following three successful years moved on and up to Massillon, a school famed as a perennial power in the grid-conscious Buckeye State.

A graduate of Muskingum College in 1951, he also did post-graduate work at Kent University. He alternated between quarterback and fullback as an undergraduate at Muskingum.

Frank Lauterbur

A native of Sidney, Ohio, he is currently in his third season as defensive line coach on the West Point staff.

Over the past decade he has had varied experience at the professional, college and high school levels.

Prior to coming to the Military Academy, he was the defensive line coach with the Baltimore Colts of the National Professional League for two years.

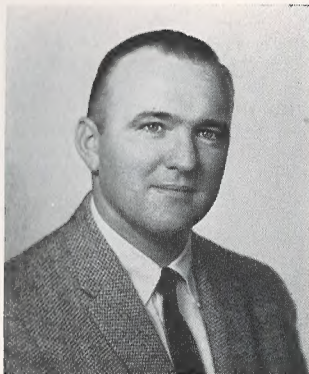

His collegiate coaching other than at West Point was a two-year term at Kent State in 1953 and 1954 where he coached the line.

Coached at Wickliffe and Collinwood High Schools in the Cleveland area for four years. Under his direction Collinwood won 14 straight and wrested the divisional title.

A graduate of Mt. Union College in 1949, he also attended Oberlin College in the Marine Corps V-12 program during World War II. He received an M.A. degree from Kent State in 1955.

He played five years of college football at Oberlin and Mount Union as a guard. In 1945 he played on the undefeated Camp Pendleton, (Calif.) Marine team.

John Rauch

The most recent addition to the Army coaching staff, he was named defensive backfield coach by Dale Hall in the spring. Rauch fills the only vacancy on the staff which was opened up by Hall's elevation to the head coaching position.

The 32-year old backfield assistant served on the staff of Wally Butts at Georgia for four years prior to coming to the Military Academy. He also served at the University of Florida for two years and then moved on to Tulane for one season under Andy Pilney.

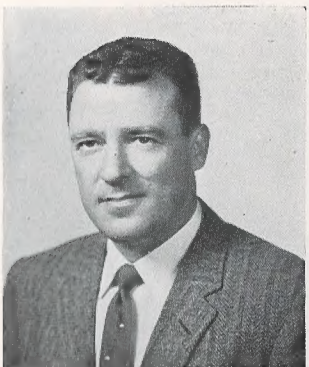

A graduate of the University of Georgia in 1949, he starred on the gridiron for four years and was an all-America quarterback. Upon graduating, he was bonus choice of the erstwhile New York Bulldogs of All-America Conference. He also played pro ball with the New York Yanks and the Philadelphia Eagles.

A native of Philadelphia, he served with Coach Hall when both were assistants at the University of Florida.

Ed Pillings

Head Trainer

Active in the training ranks for nearly a decade, he hails from Ellensburg, Washington.

Eddie joined the athletic staff at the Military Academy in 1957 and is responsible for the conditioning of athletes in Army's broad 18-sport intercollegiate program.

He launched his career as a trainer at Eastern Washington College where he combined the duties of head trainer and physical education instructor for four years. Prior to transferring to West Point, he spent four years at the head of the training department at the University of New Mexico.

A graduate of Washington State University, he competed in football and track. He earned a Master's Degree in physical education at Columbia University.

A veteran of World War II with three years of service with the Army in the Pacific Theatre, he currently holds the rank of major in the active reserve.

Captain Gil Stephenson

Junior Varsity Coach

A West Point graduate, Class of 1951, he is now in his fourth season as a member of the football staff. He coached the Plebe squads in 1955, 1957 and 1958, and this year assumes command of the junior varsity.

A native of Columbus, Georgia, he was an outstanding Army fullback for three seasons. Starting in virtually every game from the 1948 through the 1950 seasons, he was instrumental in leading the Black Knights to 26 consecutive games without defeat. In 1949 he led the undefeated Eastern championship Army team in rushing and scoring, and made the all-East team as a fullback. He was voted the most outstanding player for the north in the traditional North-South game in Miami in 1950.

Since graduation he has served with the 508th Airborne Infantry, Fort Benning; 2nd Infantry Regiment in Germany; and was an instructor in the Airborne Department, Fort Benning. He was promoted to the rank of captain in December, 1956.

Tom Cahill

Plebe Coach

A native of Fayetteville, New York, he was appointed head coach of the Plebe squad by Coach Hall in the Spring. He serves in the dual capacity of Plebe baseball coach.

He has been in the high school coaching ranks for 12 years serving at the Manlius School and Riverdell Regional H. S., Oradell, New Jersey.

At Manlius School he achieved exceptional coaching success winning 56 games while losing only 8 and tying 2 over an eight year span. This is phenomenal considering the fact that his teams were competing to a large extent against college freshman squads from Syracuse, Cornell, Williams and Army.

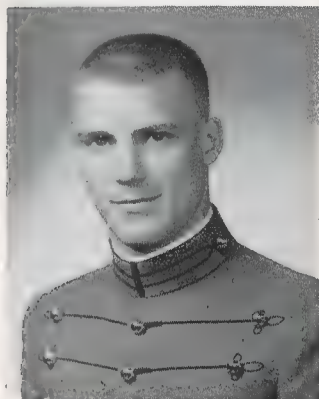

A graduate of Niagara University, Niagara Falls, N. Y., he served with the Infantry during World War II attaining the rank of captain at the time he was separated.

Black Knights in Review

CAPTAIN BILL CARPENTER, '60, 6-2, 210, 21, End, Springfield, Pa.

FIRMLY established in football's firmament as the first "lonely end," he captured the plaudits of his teammates by being elected the 70th captain in the glorious history of the game at the Military Academy. A brilliant and dedicated athlete, he became the key operative in the first entirely new concept of offensive football in fifty years created by Earl (Red) Blaik. The 11th end to be elected to the captaincy at West Point, and the first since Dan Foldberg, an all-America in 1950, Carpenter was faced with a succession of injuries throughout his career that might have discouraged one of lesser heart. The injury jinx has plagued him, on and off the field, since high school days. As a high school junior he received a serious kidney injury that all but ended his career. His doctor advised that he would never compete in contact sports again. Bill's indomitable spirit rose to the front and he came back to play in the last game that season. As a Plebe at the Academy he was forced out of action after the first game of the season with a knee operation. The following year he severely injured the ligaments and tendons of the right ankle in a jeep accident at near-by Camp Buckner which kept him on the sidelines more than half of the 1957 season. In his most recent entanglement he broke his nose in spring practice. Though not serious in nature, it is interesting to note that this marked the eighth time his proboscis has been so distended. Escaping injury in 1958, Bill developed into one of the finest receivers in Army history. In catching 22 passes—for 453 yards and 2 touchdowns—he tied the Academy record in this department set by Dan Foldberg in 1950. A widely sought after athlete he was offered scholarships by 28 leading colleges, including Navy. And speaking of Navy he and Jimmy Dunn, Middie football captain, were high school rivals. A top ranking man in military aptitude, he holds the rank of color corporal. His best friend in the Corps of Cadets incidentally is teammate Bob Anderson whom he traveled to Europe with in the summer of '58. Prior to entering the Military Academy, Bill starred in football, basketball and track at Springfield High and captained all three sports. Held both the county and district low hurdles records. Likes reading and has a particular preference for military history and adventure books. What are his impressions about the "lonely end," and following Pete Dawkins as team captain? "It is more difficult, I find, to run the pass routes from a wide flanker, and I also definitely miss playing inside because actually I feel as though I'm missing a major part of the game. As for following Pete, my position is somewhat comparable to Coach Dale Hall who succeeded Coach Blaik. It is an exacting role at best."

GLEN ADAMS, '61, 6-0, 185, 20, Back, El Paso, Tex.

Was a superlative defensive player in '58 and though he played in every game, he rarely played on offense. Scored a touchdown against Colgate, fared exceptionally well as a ball carrying threat during spring practice and off that showing was rated among the top four halfbacks on the squad. Will spell all-America Bob Anderson at left halfback. Nicknamed "Foggy", he was an all-around athlete at Ysleta High in El Paso. Captained and quarterbacked the championship team and also participated in basketball and track. Extra-curricular activities include membership in the Spanish and Camera Clubs.

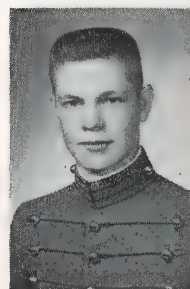

BOB ANDERSON, '60, 6-2, 205, 21, Back, Cocoa, Fla.

The first Army football player since the heralded Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis to have an opportunity to be a three-time all-America. Only other cadet besides the fabulous "Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside" to earn the accolade three times running was the late Chris Cagle. Though playing somewhat in the shadow of the brilliant Pete Dawkins in '58, Andy nevertheless proved a key cog in the cadet machinery. Equally adept in all departments — blocking, tackling, running, passing, receiving and pass defense—he is indeed a full-fledged all-America. His best effort came in the climatic service clash with Navy when he scored 16 points. In season statistics he led the cadets in rushing with 564 yards and in total offense with 707 yards. He scored 6 touchdowns and tallied 42 points. Following a magnificent yearling season, he was acclaimed by Coach Earl Blaik as the "best West Point sophomore since Glenn Davis." "Andy" pitches and plays the outfield on the cadet nine. A four letterman at Cocoa High School, he captained both the football and basketball teams. He lists his brother, John, currently serving as a pilot in the Air Force, as his sports idol—"not because he was a famous athlete, but because he got me interested in sports."

TOM BLANDA, '61, 6-0, 173, 19, Back, Youngwood, Pa.

Demonstrated excellent potential as a passer behind quarterback Joe Caldwell. A brother of George Blanda, former Kentucky all-America quarterback and now one of the great place-kickers in professional football with the Chicago Bears, Tom did not play enough to earn a letter in '58 but got in eight games and completed twelve of 24 passes for 177 yards. He threw a 55 yard touchdown strike to Russ Waters against Colgate. A good student he stands in the top thirty percent of his class and is a member of the Rocket Society.

GLEN BLUMHARDT, '62, 5-11, 185, 23, Back, Mondovi, Wisc.

An outstanding performer with the Plebes he is vying for a varsity halfback berth this fall. A transfer student from Wisconsin State College, he has only two varsity seasons of eligibility remaining. At Mondovi High School he starred in three sports and was a halfback on the team that won the Missouri Valley Conference title in '53. Prior to entering the Military Academy he served as an enlisted man with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N. C.

DON BONKO, '61, 5-10, 190, 22, Back, Lorain, Ohio

Saw considerable action behind Harry Walters at fullback playing in seven games as a sophomore. Was unable to compete in spring football drills due to a knee operation. He and John Eielson are rated even for the starting fullback post. Ran back a pass interception for 22 yards and a score against Virginia. Played both football and basketball at St. Mary's High and the Manlius School. Was captain, MVP and an all-Ohio halfback.

SCOTTY BROWN, '60, 6-1, 212, 21, Tackle, Lawton, Okla.

Figures prominently as a starting tackle candidate for the post vacated by Maurice Hilliard. Did not earn a letter last fall playing in four games as a reserve tackle. Was Brigade heavyweight boxing champion as a Plebe. Was an all-state tackle at Lawton High, and is friendly with several of the Oklahoma University squad which plays Army this fall. His favorite pastime is playing golf.

RICHARD BUCKNER, '61, 6-0, 193, 19, Center, New York City

Played only sporadically last fall and did not earn a letter. Following a fine showing in spring practice he moved up to second team center behind Bob Oswandel. The only Manhattanite on the squad, he played at Mt. St. Michael High School, was captain of the team, all-Metropolitan center, and held the school javelin throw record. His extra-curricular activities include membership in the Spanish, Radio, Ski and Camera Clubs. Brother Bob is a West Point graduate.

BARRY BUTZER, '62, 6-0, 206, 18, Guard, Lancaster, Pa.

Rated a top guard prospect from the Plebe squad. During spring practice made a determined bid for a starting post in this his first season. Strong, rugged and good speed are included in his physical make up. Twice captained the McCaskey High School football and track teams. Won the all-Lancaster lineman award and held both the district shot put and discus records. He is a member of the Rocket Society.

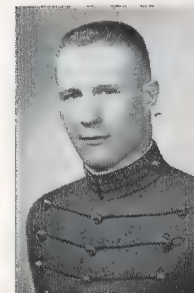

JOE CALDWELL, '60, 6-0, 165, 21, Back, Miami, Fla.

Played a key role in bringing Army the 1958 Eastern Championship and an undefeated season with his passing and quarterbacking. Completed 54 of 120 passes for 1,097 yards and 8 touchdowns. He ranked 13th in the nation in total offense with 1,123 yards. Attended Miami High which produced Arnold Tucker, Army all-America quarterback during Blanchard-Davis era. Joe was team captain, all-state, all-southern and all-America in high school and was the outstanding player in Florida in 1955. He stands in the top twenty-five percent academically and is a Sunday School Teacher.

GERRY CLEMENTS, '61, 6-1, 220, 19, Tackle, Queens Village, N. Y.

Actually won a starting tackle berth at the outset of the 1958 season until a broken arm set him back after the second game. Figures prominently as a starter this season. Lettered as a weight man in track. Starred in football and track at Chaminade High School. Captained the football squad and proved his versatility alternating between tackle, center, fullback and halfback. Held school records in shot put, javelin, and discus. A good student he is on the Dean's List standing in the top fifteen percent of his class. He is a member of the Spanish and Pistol Clubs.

MIKE CASP, '62, 5-11, 195, 18, Guard, Beaver, Pa.

Considered varsity material, lacking only in experience. Was forced to sit out the second half of the Plebe season with injuries. Rated the best linebacker on the Plebe squad. Made all-county two years running at Beaver Area (Pittsburgh) High School. Otto Graham is his sport idol.

JIM CONNORS, '61, 5-10, 182, 20, Back, Stoughton, Mass.

Saw action in only the Colgate game last fall, his first in varsity competition. Also competes as a sprinter on the track team. Was a three letterman at Stoughton High School and co-captained both the baseball and track teams. Also played football and baseball at the Manlius School.

BOB CULP, '62, 5-11, 188, 20, Back, Millington, Tenn.

A center in high school and on the Plebe squad, he was converted into a fullback in spring practice. Figures to play only sporadically this fall behind John Eielson and Don Bonko. Participated in football at Kingston High and Columbian Prep and made Wyoming Valley all-Scholastic at center. He is a member of the Skeet Shooting and Chess Clubs.

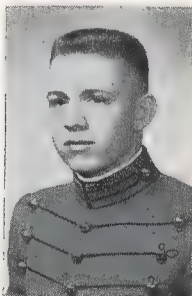

JOHN EIELSON, '61, 6-0, 200, 20, Back, Haverhill, Mass.

Saw action as an alternate fullback in three games when a severe hand injury put him out of action. Played five minutes against Navy. A rugged blocker and fine defensive performer, he moved ahead of Don Bonko for the starting fullback job during spring practice. Considered one of strongest backs on squad. A linebacker on defense. Captain of Haverhill High School football squad which won the State title in 1955. An outstanding student he is on the Dean's List. His favorite pastimes include skiing and sailing. His uncle, the late Carl Ben Eielson, was an arctic pilot-explorer in whose memory Eielson Air Force Base, Alaska, is named.

OTTO EVERBACH, '60, 6-0, 185, 21, End, New Albany, Ind.

Played in seven games spelling Don Usry, and is one of top four end candidates on squad. Also plays varsity basketball. Was a three letterman at New Albany High and captained the basketball quintet. Extra-curricular activities include membership in the Russian Language Club and he is company hop manager.

BOB FUELLHART, '62, 6-0, 190, 19, End, Tignesta, Pa.

One of the outstanding young prospects developed on the Plebe squad, he figures to see considerable action as an alternate "lonely end" in this his first varsity season. Rated as a good receiver and has good speed. Participated in football and track at Kiski Prep and captained both squads. Was the outstanding hurdler on the Plebe track team and held Prep and high school records in the low hurdles and broad jump.

PETE HAMEISTER, '62, 6-0, 190, 19, End, Kent, Ohio

Considered a potentially good prospect from the Plebe squad. Also played Plebe basketball. Starred in three sports at Kent Roosevelt High and captained both the football and golf squads. He is a member of the French Club and stands in the upper half of his class academically.

FRANK GIBSON, '61, 6-3, 200, 20, End, Bellaire, Ohio

Alternating between quarterback and fullback, he played in eight games and earned a varsity letter his first season. During spring practice he concentrated on playing end and is in the running for a second team berth. Also plays varsity baseball. Was a three letterman at Bellaire High and captained the football squad. Nicknamed "Hoot".

KEN HERRING, '62, 6-1, 210, 18, Center, Meridian, Tex.

Took over first string center job with Plebes and then was set down with injuries. The biggest of the center candidates, he could see action as an alternate behind Bob Oswandel and Dick Buckner, both of whom have considerably more experience. Participated in three sports at Meridian High and was football captain and all-central Texas center. Holds district record for shot put and discus. Likes to read scientific books in spare time and is a member of the Rocket Society. Is on the Dean's List.

MIKE JEZOIR, '60, 5-11, 200, 21, Guard, Parma, Ohio

Played in five games but failed to get in enough time to earn a letter. Now a senior he is making a strong bid for an alternate guard slot and may play consistently. Played three sports at Cathedral Latin and captained the city championship team in 1955. Extra-curricular activities include membership in the Russian Language and Ski Clubs, the Rocket Society and he is a member of the Howitzer (Cadet yearbook) staff. His brother Anthony, a first lieutenant in the infantry, graduated from West Point in 1956.

GEORGE JOULWAN, '61, 5-11, 190, 19, Center, Pottsville, Pa.

Played in only two games last fall as a reserve guard. Transferred to center during spring practice and impressed the coaching staff with his efforts as a defensive player. Is also a candidate for the Army basketball squad. At Pottsville High he captained both the football and basketball teams. Was all-state and all-conference in football. He is a member of the German Language Club and is company athletic and recreation representative.

PETE KING, '62, 6-0, 180, 18, Back, Watchung, N. J.

A left handed passing quarterback from the Plebe squad, he showed rapid development in spring practice moving in as the third signal caller. Played four sports at North Plainfield High and captained the basketball, track and tennis squads. Quarterbacked the Jersey school to an undefeated season. He is a member of the Ski Club. His brother Mike played football at Ursinus.

GEORGE KIRSCHENBAUER, '62, 6-1, 180, 18, Back, Allendale, N. J.

Captain, leading ground gainer and high scorer on the Plebe squad, he is regarded as an outstanding varsity prospect. Starred in three sports at Ramsey High School and was captain of both the football and baseball teams. He made all-state as a catcher in baseball. A good student he is on the Dean's List.

DALE KUHNS, '62, 6-2, 225, 18, Tackle, Clearfield, Pa.

Rated by the coaching staff as the most likely sophomore to make the first team. A good blocker with quick movement, he pressed Scotty Brown for a starting tackle assignment in the spring. Starred in football, track and basketball at Clearfield Area High. Held District and Big Three records in the shot put, and was a regular on both the football (1955) and basketball (1957) championship teams. Sings in the Choir and Glee Club. His favorite pastime is constructing mechanical or electrical equipment.

BURTT LAUCK, '62, 6-2, 209, 20, Tackle, Wichita Falls, Tex.

Another tackle candidate from the Plebe squad, he is battling for an alternate berth. Played freshman ball at Baylor and was all-conference freshman tackle. At Wichita High he was a varsity tackle for three years and was team captain, all-district, and all-state. He is on the Dean's List and is a Fourth Class ring representative. Also has interest in art and drama.

BOB McCARTHY, '61, 6-2, 206, 19, Tackle, East Bridgewater, Mass.

Has gained a second team outside tackle spot after moving up from the JV team. Impressive in spring practice and should see considerable action behind Gerry Clements. Also won Plebe numerals as a guard. Won 12 letters at East Bridgewater High and was captain of the football and basketball squads. Standing in the top sixth of his class, Bob is a member of the Russian Club, Debate Council and Forum and the Bridge Club.

HARRY MILLER, '61, 6-2, 200, 19, Guard, Garden City, N. Y.

Though he played in only one varsity game in 1958, he has the inside track for a starting berth with both regular guards having graduated. Plays linebacker on defense. Also competes for Army in intercollegiate wrestling. Was a three star athlete at Garden City High School and captained both the football and track teams. Cleared 6 foot 1 inch to win a collection of high jumping medals.

DANNY MINOR, '61, 5-11, 185, 20, Back,
Macon, Georgia

Played in five games as a sophomore halfback. However, he was hampered most of the season with a chronic ankle injury. Now competing for an alternate halfback assignment behind all-American Bob Anderson. Played football and baseball at both Lanier High and Manlius Prep. Captained both sports in high school. His first name is Henry, but he prefers to be called Danny.

BOB ORD, '62, 6-2, 212, 19, Tackle, Medford Lakes, N. J.

Big and strong, but on the slow side, he is vying for an alternate tackle job in this his first varsity campaign. Played football and track at Mt. Holly High, captained both sports and was all-county first team tackle. Holds membership in both the sailing and weight lifting clubs and his favorite pastime is salt water fishing.

BOB OSWANDEL, '60, 6-1, 197, 21, Center,
Rahway, N. J.

Earned a major letter after playing in all nine games alternating with Bill Rowe at center. Good blocker and strong on pursuit. Plays the middle guard in five man line. Highly regarded by coaching staff. Played two years as center at Rahway High and made all-state and MVP. Extra-curricular activities include Choir, French Club, Special Program Committee.

ED PERDEW, '62, 6-2, 200, 19, Back, Hastings, Neb.

Has physical attributes of a quarterback, but is lacking in experience. Competed in football, basketball and track at Hastings High and was captain of the grid team. Was a member of the 1953 and 1956 American Legion baseball teams that won state championships. Extra-curricular activities include Ski Club, Debate Council and Forum. Favorite pastimes include watching westerns and listening to country music.

FRED RUSHATZ, '62, 5-10, 185, 19, Back, Allentown, Pa.

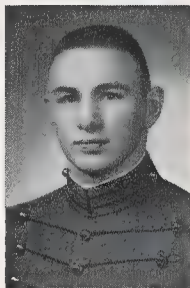

Certain to see some action as a defensive fullback in this his first varsity season. Lacks experience. Potentially the finest wrestling prospect to enter the Academy in a decade, he was undefeated in dual meet competition as a Plebe and also won the West Point Invitational Freshman Tourney at 177 pounds. Prior to entering the Academy he won the Pennsylvania State 165 pound mat title. Won letters in three sports at Allentown High and captained the mat team. Was high scorer in football. Favorite pastime is hunting.

JERRY SEAY, '62, 225, 20, Guard, DeKalb, Tex.

Hurt most of the Plebe season he never did arrive at his peak. Turned in consistently good performances in spring practice and as a result is a strong contender for second string guard slot in this his first varsity season. Was a starting guard on Baylor Frosh in 1957 and made all-Southwest Conference. Compiled a brilliant athletic record at DeKalb High where he captained both the football and track teams. Was all-state in football, and won the shot put title in the Texarkana Relays. Is a member of the Pistol Club and is an Academic Coach in English. Favorite pastime includes building model airplanes, cars and motors.

PHIL SYKES, '61, 6-2, 195, 20, Guard, Marion, Ohio

Saw action in only one game in his initial varsity season. An end in 1958 he was switched to guard in spring practice and is vying for an alternate berth behind Al Vanderbush. Played football and basketball at Marion Harding High and was captain of both squads. Was twice named the outstanding defensive player of the year. An excellent student, he is on the Dean's List.

DON USRY, '60, 6-3, 215, 22, End, Cleburne, Tex.

A starter last fall and throughout most of the previous season, he is an experienced and talented wing man and should prove to be one of the finest in the section, if not in the nation. In contrast to the "lonely end," Don is often referred to as the "sociable end" because he does enter the huddle. Caught 10 passes for 145 yards and two touchdowns. Added the third touchdown that crushed Navy when he grabbed deflected pass and raced 38 yards in the fourth period. A good student, he is on the Dean's List and stands in the top six percent of his class academically. Played freshman ball at Texas A & M and was a three star athlete at Cleburne High where he captained the track, basketball and football squads. Was all-State and all-America end in high school and holds the record of having caught the most passes in one season (48) in the 1954 season. Hunting is his favorite pastime. Played against Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Boyd in high school.

AL VANDERBUSH, '61, 6-2, 215, 20, Guard, Midland Park, N. J.

Earned a starting guard berth as a sophomore, but a head injury suffered in the Pittsburgh game slowed his progress somewhat. Played in all nine games and lettered, and is a virtual certainty to regain starting status this fall. Rated best linebacker on squad and has all-America possibilities. Starred in three sports at Pompton Lakes High and was captain of both the football and baseball teams. Was all-State in both sports and held the state record of longest run by a lineman of 97 yards. He is on the Dean's List, sings in the Cadet Choir and is a member of the Ski Club. His sport idol is Joe DiMaggio.

STEVE WALDROP, '60, 6-2, 200, 22, Back, Dallas, Tex.

Inherits the difficult assignment of succeeding the spectacular Pete Dawkins. Played in all nine games and started against Pittsburgh in 1958. Averaged 5 yards per carry and scored 4 touchdowns. Turned in brilliant spring practice performance and has earned the complete confidence of the coaching staff. Rated fastest man in backfield. Coupled with Bob Anderson, Steve gives Army possibly the strongest halfback tandem in the East. Like Andy, Waldrop has the experience of two varsity campaigns behind him and is a scoring threat from any position on the field. Power is his principal forte, but he is swift enough to run breakaway for the long gainer. Plays safety on defense. Played freshman ball at Mississippi State and competed in both football and track at Central High in Jackson, Miss. He is a member of the Class Ring and Crest Committee. His dad is an architect and the family recently moved from Jackson to Dallas, Texas.

RUSS WATERS, '60, 6-2, 185, 23, End, Sylvania, Ga.

Spelled "lonely end" Bill Carpenter last fall and will fill the same assignment in 1959. Exceptionally fast and a brilliant receiver, he played in all nine games. Caught 11 passes for 146 yards and scored one touchdown on a 55 yard pass from Tom Blanda. He also earned two varsity letters as a sprinter on the track team. Is a member of the quartet which holds Academy Plebe Mile relay record. Played freshman football at Georgia Tech. Competed in five sports at Screven High, captained the basketball team and was the most outstanding athlete in the senior class. Stands in the top 25 percent of his class academically. Brother Don is a West Point graduate currently holding the rank of lieutenant. Russ' pastimes include hunting and fishing.

BILL WHITEHEAD, '62, 6-2, 197, 18, Tackle, Lansford, Pa.

Shared starting assignment as Plebe center with Ken Herring. Shifted to tackle in the spring. Short on experience and, therefore, probably will play only sporadically. Participated in three sports at Lansford High, captained the football team, and was awarded the outstanding football player trophy. Is a member of the Debate Council and Forum.

BILL YOST, '61, 6-2, 216, 19, Tackle, Paulsboro, N. J.

Played as an alternate tackle in all nine games behind Maurice Hilliard, and is included in the returning list of lettermen. Though unable to participate in spring practice because of a knee operation, he is nevertheless given an even chance of making a starting assignment. A three letter man at Paulsboro High, he captained both the football and track squads. Model railroading is his favorite pastime.

ROGER ZAILSKAS, '61, 5-10, 180, 19, Back, Waterbury, Conn.

Played in only three games in '58, but averaged six yards a carry and scored one touchdown. Against Colgate he returned a pass interception 40 yards for a score, and was credited with three pass interceptions. Looked impressive in spring practice until a combination knee-ankle injury sidelined him. A .400 hitter and the finest baseball prospect at the Academy, he was contacted by the Chicago Cubs, Milwaukee Braves, Boston Red Sox and Los Angeles Dodgers as a big league prospect. At Crosby High he played baseball, football and basketball and captained the court and diamond teams. Extra-curricular activities include membership in the Spanish Club and the Outdoor Sportsman Club. Ted Williams is his sport idol.

PAUL ZMUIDA, '62, 6-1, 180, 18, End, Schuylkill Haven, Pa.

Fast and a fine receiver he was ranked as the No. 3 end on the Plebe squad. Lost some time in the latter stages of the season with a knee operation. Is a candidate for "lonely end" behind Capt. Bill Carpenter and Russ Waters. Was a three star athlete at Schuylkill Haven High where Jim Schwenk, former Army football captain in 1938, was developed. Paul captained the football, basketball and baseball teams. A good student he is on the Dean's List.

FORECAST: The graduation losses suffered by the Boston College football squad may suggest only temporary pain.

The two-unit system of operation by Coach Mike Holovak, now starting his ninth season as the Eagles' head coach, may be able to offset the departed veterans.

adequately seasoned players for the coming campaign.

Holovak admits the serious problem of depth will hurt the Eagles more than anything else next year. Only the rapid response of some standout sophomores (1959 sophomores) could abet the depth situation.

Fullback Frank Robotti, 190 pound product of Fairfield Prep, stands head and shoulders over anyone else at that position. Robotti averaged 4.4 yards for the Eagles a year ago and is expected—only a junior in '59 to be much improved.

A little, but daring and resourceful quarterback, John Amabile of Jersey City, was Don Allard's understudy a year ago. What with Allard's many physical misfortunes Amabile had time to become action-tested.

Vin Hogan, '59 senior from Springfield, Mass., was shuttled between right half and fullback last Fall. He was the Eagles' third high ground gainer and averaged an even five yards per carry. He's at right half.

Up front, Captain-elect Frank Casey started most games at guard last year. He'll fit into the prime picture again this year and be substantially important to B.C.'s chances.

Harry Ball, 6-1, 245 pound tackle, was most impressive during the Spring drills and is being counted upon for outstanding service this Fall.

Larry Elsenhaur, a 6-4, 215 pound Chaminade High School graduate from Huntington, N. Y., sparkled as a sophomore end a year ago.

FORECAST: Illinois' 1959 football team will again depend considerably upon senior end Rich Kreitling, 6-2, 205 pounder, who combines the speed of a halfback with unusual pass-catching ability. Kreitling last season led the nation in pass receiving yardage and set a new N.C.A.A. record for longest average gain from pass receptions (29.9 yards).

Also returning from the 1958 Illini are the top three quarterbacks, John Easterbrook, Bob Hickey, and Russ Martin, so Illinois' aerial game will be in experienced hands.

Coach Ray Eliot, beginning his eighteenth and last season in charge of Illinois' grid fortunes, will have returning his two leading ground gainers, halfback Marshall Starks and fullback Bill Brown, plus Joe Krakoski, lanky junior halfback who had the team's best rushing average (5.5), but was able to carry the ball only 15 times because of a multitude of injuries. Backfield losses include Jack Delveaux, a three-year alternate regular at fullback, and halfbacks Don Grothe and L. T. Bonner. Eliot has high hopes for a trio of sophomore halfbacks, who he hopes can provide more speed at the position than was available in 1958.

Graduation took ten linemen, leaving Eliot with several outstanding individuals but not much depth. Guard Bill Burrell, named to captain the 1959 squad, should be one of the nation's best. Other dependable performers include Joe Rutgens, junior tackle who won a starting berth last year as a sophomore, Don Yeazel, senior tackle who also handles extra-point and field goal kicking chores, and Dave Ash, senior center who has been moved from guard. Also, John Gremer, a regular tackle as a sophomore in 1955, has returned from service and will play guard.

ments for all-East center Steve Garban, guard Charlie Ruslavage, tackles Bill Wehmer and Joe Bohart, and end Maurice Schleicher.

The key backfield losses are halfbacks Dave Kasperian (1958's leading rusher and scorer), Fran Paolone, and Bruce Gilmore, quarterback Al Jacks, and fullback Andy Moconyi.

If Engle can solve his linebacking problems (caused by the departure of Garban and Ruslavage) and can come up with some break-away speed, the Nittany Lions should equal or better last year's 6-3-1 record. Although the team lacks overall speed, the running attack (which was 6th in the nation in 1958) again figures to be strong. Tested ball carriers the likes of fullback Pat Botula, halfbacks Jim Kerr, Dick Hoak, and Sam Sobczak, should make the "grind-it-out" ball control attack function smoothly. The aerial game will be in good hands with quarterback Richie Lucas (also an excellent runner) directing the attack.

FORECAST: Coach Bill Murray has a nucleus of 21 lettermen returning from the 1958 squad which compiled a mediocre record of 5 wins and 5 losses. The Blue Devils are well equipped in the line, but are faced with a rebuilding program at ends and in the backfield.

Murray indicated after spring practice that the Blue Devils will be strong defensively and hope to improve their offensive with a stepped up passing attack.

Much has been heard of the all-round ability of Captain Mike McGee at guard and he is expected to spearhead a powerful defensive alignment. McGee may well be one of the great linemen in Duke history. Others who figure prominently in the forward wall are Ted Royall, center, Jim Gardner and Don Denne, tackles.

The offense will be a questionable quantity until a quarterback with authority is developed. George Harris appears to be the No. 1 signal-caller in the fold. He will have a big job ahead of him filling in for the top two of last fall, namely; Bob Brodhead and Pryor Millner, both of whom graduated.

The loss of halfbacks Wray Carlton and George Dutrow has thrown the halfback jobs wide open. There are, however, 15 candidates for the positions. Bunny Bell, Danny Lee, Bobby Honeycutt and Dave Burch are all lettermen. Jack Wilson, a reserve last fall and Dean Wright, promising sophomores, are also considered potentially outstanding ball carriers.

Duke figures to be a strong contender for the Atlantic Coast title. The Blue Devils roam far and wide for outside competition playing, in addition to Army, Ohio State, Rice, Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech.

FORECAST: Colorado State figures to have considerably more depth and experience than its predecessor which won 6 and lost 4. Biggest loss appears to be quarterback Freddy Glick, but five lettermen in the line will be difficult to replace.

SERIES SCORES

First Game.

Overall team speed is rated average by Coach Tuffy Mullison, and the line size is considered good.

The backfield is small, but quick and has average speed. Lack of size in the secondary appears to be team's major weakness. Strongest positions in the line are at end and center.

The Rams are faced with what many consider the most difficult schedule in the school's annals. In addition to Skyline Conference opposition, the Aggies take on Army, Eastern champion; College of Pacific and Arizona State at Tempe.

Back from last season are nine regulars or alternates who saw considerable action. Principal veterans returning include Alan Ashbaugh, fullback; Wayne Schneider and Joe Martinez, halfbacks; Duane Knox and Al Fortune, ends; Al Henderson, tackle; Russ Willis, guard and Jim Elfrid, center.

Colorado State finished strong in '58 winning four of its last five games.

FORECAST: The "Fabulous Falcons" of 1958, in Ben Martin's first year at the helm, were undefeated and gained a berth in the Cotton Bowl. A dozen top lettermen from this aggregation were graduated in June with the Air Force Academy's first class. Absence of these men, including seven starters, is bound to be felt.

SERIES SCORES

First Game.

At the conclusion of spring drills some of the thin spots appeared to be adequately manned. Chief causes for concern are center and tackles, in that order. Letterman Charles Moores, No. 3 performer last year, is the only experienced center. The four-letterman tackle corps, headed by Capt. Brock Strom, a consensus all-America, and Dave Phillips, voted top lineman of the Cotton Bowl, is completely depleted.

There's still no proven performer behind Moores. At tackle, Juniors Bob Wagner and Neal Rountree and Sophs Pete Bobko and Doug McConnell appear capable once they pick up some experience.

Elsewhere in the line the team appears to be in good shape. Heading the ends are Bob Brickey, 1958 pass-catching ace, and Sam Hardage, rated the top defensive wingman. Capt. Howard Bronson, Dan Johnson and Randy Cubero are all solid performers at guard.

In the backfield, Rich Mayo, the nation's No. 4 passer last year as a Soph, and a great all-around quarterback, is spelled by Letterman John Kuenzel. Mike Quinlan and Phil Lane, both standouts a year ago, head the halfback corps, and George Pupich, the Falcons' "golden toe," has made the switch from half to fullback successfully.

Bronson and Mayo are strong contenders for all-America honors.

The overall appraisal: Strong in the backfield at all spots, with Sophs Don Hallager and Don Baucom providing more speed than last year. The line is not as deep as a year ago.

FORECAST: This could well be the best year for the Wildcats under Frank Reagan. There is plenty of experience and a good solid core of freshmen pushing the veterans for starting jobs. For the first time since 1954, Reagan has plenty of regulars (7) from the previous year returning; he has 19 letter winners in all who will be back once again and he has come up with a couple of fast backs who can go the distance.

The line picture appears to be the strongest part of the Wildcat grid machine with the starting 1958 tackles, center and one guard and one end on hand. Plus the fact that several of the reserve guards have also had duty in '58 as period starters. The lone problem along the forward wall is at the end posts, but if a group of freshmen who showed well in spring drills hold up under varsity competition, this could be eased.

The major concern of Reagan's however is at quarterback where only senior Ed Roehre has had any playing time to his credit. While Roehre is expected to be able to turn in a proficient performance, the reserve strength at this time appears to be lacking. The number two and three men at this spot are both inexperienced and need quite a bit of work before being considered able to break into the lineup.

Bud Wilkinson hopes to mold into another leading contender for national honors. The loss of five starters in the line poses the principal problem for the coaching staff. However, a nucleus of 23 lettermen appears to be an adequate supply of talent to take up the slack caused by the graduation of 17 letter winners.

Coach Wilkinson is expected to take a leaf out of Red Blaik's book installing, not one, but three extreme "lonely" flankers to confuse the opposition. Blaik in his last season at West Point, it will be recalled, introduced the "lonely end" to football. Wilkinson has formalized plans to remove both ends and a halfback from the huddle and station all three of them the maximum distance permitted from the ball.

Returning from the power packed Sooner squad which won 9 of ten and walloped Syracuse in the Orange Bowl are five starters. Two linemen, Gilmer Lewis, all-Big 8 tackle, and guard Jerry Thompson, and three backs, Jimmy Carpenter, Brewster Hobby and Gautt, another all-Big 8 nominee, compose the quintet of veterans. Two soph stand-outs appear on the scene in guard Karl Milstead and halfback Mike McClellan.

Schedule is considered extra arduous. Playing six Big 8 foes and Army, Northwestern and Texas.

FORECAST: Navy will have a new head coach this Fall, but the Middies' style of play will be "basically the same." That's the word from Wayne Hardin, successor to Eddie Erdelatz at the Academy. "The things we have done in the past have been staff efforts. We will carry out the offensive plans mapped in spring drills. The staff has worked closely together on it. This is our thinking and we'll go with it. I plan few changes," Hardin says.

"I think we are going to have a very good ball club. Our players are very enthusiastic. They like the stuff we introduced in the spring. We have an excellent leader in Center Jim Dunn, our Captain. I am eager for this opportunity and anxious to meet the challenge," the 32-year-old Navy grid leader declares.

The Midshipmen will go all-out in platooning this year. They will employ a starting team, a replacement team and a second or reserve unit. There will be no such thing as a first team.

"We plan on using the starting unit and the replacement outfit approximately 7½ minutes each quarter. Under our system our best players will be sprinkled through the starting and replacement teams. Usually the best 11 men are found on the first team. This way the two teams will be about even in strength and therefore eliminate the drop that normally takes place through substitution. It will give more boys a chance to play football," Hardin explained.

Navy has 15 lettermen returning from its '58 squad which posted a 6-3 record. Last year's starters returning are End Tom Albershart, Tackles Larry Boyer and Bill Thomas, Center and Captain-elect Jim Dunn, Quarterback Joe Tranchini and Left Halfback Joe Bellino. Eleven letter-winners will be lost through graduation, including Guards George Fritzinger and Don Chomicz, End John Kanuch, Halfback Dick Dagampat and Fullback Ray Wellborn from the first unit.

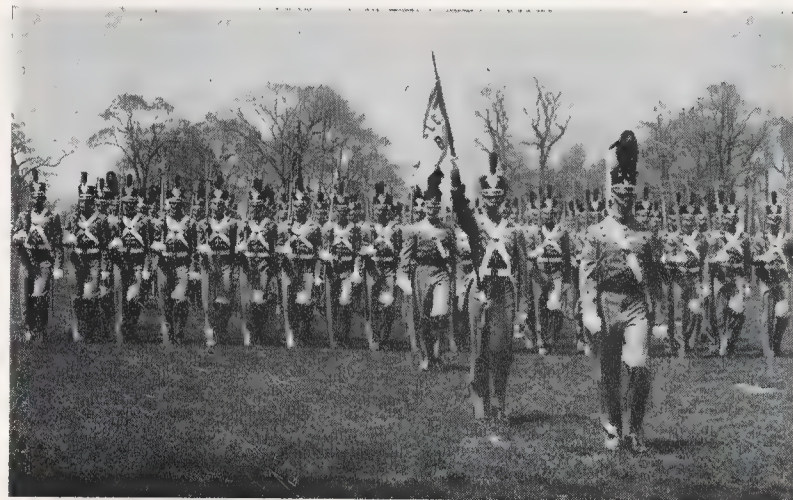

"We are fortunate in having two experienced quarterbacks of about equal ability. Both Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield won their letters last year and we are confident that either of them can do the job. Both men would be welcome additions to any football team in the nation," Hardin says.

The Army Mule

Hannibal, one of Army's active mascots.

FOR more than fifty years the mule has been identified as the mascot of Army football. Selected by the Corps of Cadets near the turn of the century, the mule was picked probably because it was the best known animal to be identified with the United States Army. The first mules to enter this country were gifts from Spain presented to General George Washington shortly after the Revolutionary War. Sturdy and dependable, the mule was used to haul guns and supplies in many of our nation's battles. In the bush country of the Philippines, the rice fields of China and the mud of France, the mule proved a faithful servant to the foot soldier. Used in all wars except the Revolutionary, these hybrids saw duty in the War of 1812, Spanish American War, World War I and in Italy and the Pacific during World War II. The West Point mule stable currently numbers five, two of which have been retired. Mr. Jackson, oldest at 34, and Pancho, 19 year old burro presented by former Ambassador Colon Alfaro of Ecuador, have been put out to pasture. Pancho II, another burro, Hannibal, seen at Army games the past ten years, and Trotter, the newest and largest weighing 1,500 pounds, are on hand for all games at Michie Stadium, and at least one of the trio travels to games away whenever transportation is feasible.

General Information

NAME: United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

FOUNDED: March 16, 1802, by an Act of Congress.

ENROLLMENT: Authorized strength is 2,512. The men of the Corps of Cadets are a cross-section of American youth, selected on the basis of ability and promise. They come from every state and territory in the Union. They hail from the city and the farm. Their fathers are mechanics, farmers, salesmen, lawyers, teachers—the men of America. All live in barracks, eat the same food, wear the same uniform, pursue the same courses, take the same training and receive the same pay. Neither cadets nor officers are interested in any cadet's financial and social status.

MOTTO: Duty, Honor, Country. Every cadet pledges himself to the ideals symbolized by the Military Academy's motto: attention to Duty, devotion to Honor, and service to our Country.

COLORS: Black, Gold, Gray.

NICKNAME: "Army," "Cadets," "Black Knights."

MASCOT: Mule (See Page 63).

PARADE SCHEDULE:

Sept. 26, Oct. 10, Nov. 7—11:45 on the Plain.

Oct. 3—12:30 at Memorial Stadium, Ill.

Oct. 17—1:00 at Duke Stadium.

Oct. 24—1:00 at Michie Stadium.

Oct. 31—12:30 at Yankee Stadium, N. Y.

Nov. 28—12:00 at Municipal Stadium, Philadelphia.

BAND: 109 Enlisted men. Major William H. Schempf, Commanding Officer, Director of Music and Bandmaster.

MICHIE STADIUM: Constructed in 1924. Dedicated to the memory of Dennis Michie, the first football coach and captain at West Point. Dedicated November 15, 1924 in the game between Army and Columbia, which resulted in a 14 to 14 tie. Concrete, horseshoe shaped, the stadium capacity is 27,000.
